Preparation for Worship

The Beatitudes as a kind of ladder of perfection is not a new idea. Dante describes the angels singing a particular Beatitude at each cornice of the Mount of Purgatory as souls, released from their need of purification, ascend to heaven. Ambrose preaches the stages of perfection as one Beatitude resting upon the other. Augustine and Hugh of St. Victor play with pairing the Beatitudes with the gifts of the Holy Spirit, virtues and vices.

But I like what Catherine of Sienna says. All the way to heaven is heaven, because you said, “I am the way.” As I strive to live into the Christ life, I taste heaven at each increment of grace, and, I hope and pray, I inadvertently let loose a little of paradise into the world, even if I’m not conscious of either receiving or giving.

Into the presence of God we come,
carrying the offerings of our lives.

We wear the balm of Christ's grace
and the oil of the Holy Spirit's welcome.

In the presence of God our minds and hearts are prepared to be bearers of God's love to the world.

Let us offer justice and love,
and walk humbly in Christ's ways.

Our Father,
which art in heaven,
hallowed be thy name.
Thy kingdom come, thy will be done
on earth, as it is in heaven.
Give us this day our daily bread.
